You're already good at what you do but does it always come across in the presentation?

Deliver a clear message that supports the things you want to achieve...

This one-day FREE workshop will show you how to construct an effective to-the-point presentation which will really make your message land. Connect with your audience, improve your ability to "hold your own under fire", and deliver a compelling and persuasive presentation.

Test out your new skills in a fun and supportive atmosphere with constructive friendly feedback. Class sizes are kept small for a more focused workshop and you will have four opportunities to present throughout the day. Each participant will receive a full copy of the course notes to take your work away with you.
